Indigenous Land Acknowledgement

It is important to acknowledge that I am broadcasting this class from the traditional homelands of the Shoshone-Bannock and Eastern Shoshone peoples. We must acknowledge that the land we are meeting on this semester is the original homeland of indigenous people. As counselors, respecting the histories and cultural identities of the clients we see is vital, so I believe it is important to acknowledge the painful history of genocide and forced removal of indigenous persons from this territory. I wish to honor and respect the many diverse indigenous peoples still connected to this land on which we gather.

Course Description

While supervised by site supervisors and the internship coordinator, students provide counseling services to individuals with disabilities in Clinical Mental Health Counseling settings (e.g., rehabilitation agency, clinical mental health, community rehabilitation program, Veterans' Administration). Must be a minimum of 300 hours.

Selected readings will be posted in Canvas. Supplemental readings can also be downloaded from the course website. Students must complete all readings prior to the class period for which they are assigned, and come prepared to discuss the readings in class. Students should expect to study the readings as necessary to understand the material.

Additional References: Students may refer to texts used in their REH 6130-Rehabilitation Counseling Skill Development and REH 6200-Theories of Counseling Applied to Personas with Disabilities courses. Selected readings for class assignments will be posted in CANVAS.

Purpose and Objectives

The Clinical Rehabilitation Counseling Internship provides students with the opportunity to practice the theories, approaches, and skills developed in previous coursework and experiences. The purpose of this course is to provide students with a supervised field experience in a rehabilitation counseling, mental health, or related counseling setting. Students are expected to spend a total of 600 hours in an approved mental health counseling setting such as a private counseling practice, community mental health agency, university-based counseling service, or other mental health counseling setting approved by the internship coordinator. All students are encouraged and RSA grant recipients are required to have an experience working in the state VR system either as a practicum or internship student. Forty percent, or a minimum of 240 hours, need to be spent providing direct services to individuals with disabilities.

By the end of the Rehabilitation Counseling Internship students will have developed and strengthened:

- The ability to establish and maintain effective counseling relationships. At least 240 hours of the internship time (600 total hours required) needs to be spent engaged in direct client service. For internship students, this may include limited time observing other professionals working with clients but should primarily spent providing direct services to clients with disabilities. See Internship Manual for additional clarification and examples of direct client contact activities.
- The ability to conceptualize and integrate a client's personal, social, vocational, medical and environmental situation.
- Formulate sound and realistic rehabilitation plans, make optimum use of available rehabilitation services, and evaluate the progress of clients in their rehabilitation plan.
- Plan and organize work, write reports, and maintain adequate records.
- Form effective relationships with rehabilitation clients, staff, supervisors and external agency professionals.
- The ability to assess and draw accurate inferences about clients from observing their behavior both inside and outside of the counseling situation.
- The capability to interpret vocational tests and other information to clients and other professionals.
- Perform rehabilitation counseling tasks with a minimum of supervision.
- Maintain professional and ethical standards in work responsibilities and relationships.

Disclaimer

Adjustments in syllabi are often necessary to best achieve the purpose and objectives of the course. I reserve the right to change readings, assignments, and the relative importance of the assignments for the final grade. If changes are necessary, students will be given reasonable advanced notice and rationale for changes. In the event changes are made, the amended syllabi will be discussed in class and uploaded into CANVAS.

Special Education and Rehabilitation Department Policies for Grading Guidelines

1. Criteria for the awarding of each letter grade should be specified in the course syllabi for all courses.
2. Grades given in all courses should truly reflect differences in student performance, not just meeting minimum criteria.
3. All graduate students must maintain a 3.0 grade point average to remain an active student in the graduate program (a USU Graduate School policy).

Academic Honesty

It is expected that student work will conform to the highest standards of academic honesty. Incidences of academic dishonesty (e.g., cheating on tests, plagiarism, lying to supervisors and cooperating teachers) will be referred to program committees for disciplinary action.

Notice of Academic Dishonesty

The University expects that students and faculty alike maintain the highest standards of academic honesty. For the benefit of students who may not be aware of specific standards of the University concerning academic honesty, the following information is quoted from the code of Policies and Procedure for Students at Utah State University, Article V, Section 3; Violations of University Standards, Acts of Academic Dishonesty:

It also includes the unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or agency engaged in the selling of term papers or other academic materials
(<http://catalog.usu.edu/content.php?catoid=12&navoid=3140&hl=Integrity&returnto=search>).

Violations of the above policy will subject the offender to the University discipline procedures as outlined in Article VI, Section 1 of the Handbook. Those procedures may lead to: (a) a reprimand; (b) a grade adjustment; (c) being placed on warning or probation; (d) suspension from the University; or (e) expulsion from the University.

Learn more about the USU student code of conduct.

Grievance Process (Student Code)

Students who feel they have been unfairly treated [in matters other than (i) discipline or (ii) admission, residency, employment, traffic, and parking - which are addressed by procedures separate and independent from the Student Code] may file a grievance through the channels and procedures described in the Student Code: Article VII Grievances

(<https://studentconduct.usu.edu/studentcode/article7>).

General Course Policies

Distance learning presents some pedagogical challenges for both instructors and students. Therefore, to maximize learning in this course, students are expected to participate in all Zoom sessions in a professional manner. Students should minimize distraction by turning off other electronic devices (e.g. televisions, cell phones, etc.) and minimizing other Internet web pages while class is in session. Students are required use the raise hand feature on adobe connect to ask questions and dialogue with the instructor. Students are also required to participate in in class group activities. During these discussions, students must use their microphone. Please remember to mute your microphone when you are not speaking.

Learning Environment

Proper decorum is to be observed in the virtual classroom, as outlined in the student code (<http://catalog.usu.edu/content.php?catoid=4&navoid=581>). Students are expected to engage in reasonable and substantial preparation for their coursework, to follow course and class guidelines as set forth in syllabi and as enunciated by their instructor, and to complete all academic exercises with integrity. All interactions with faculty members, staff members, and other students shall be conducted with courtesy, civility, decency, and a concern for personal dignity. The following are the course policies that should be followed during all online discussions, activities, presentations, and testing.

1. Refrain from the use of excessive profanity or derogatory statements about sexual orientation, ethnicity, religion, race, gender, age, etc.
2. Respect your peers (e.g., do not judge opinions or monopolize the discussion thread).
3. Sharing of personal experiences is encouraged in the context of the course material. However, the instructor and the students are expected to maintain confidentiality and are asked not to discuss personal accounts shared by colleagues outside of the class setting.
4. Remember, cameras are required for full participation. Some classes may require the camera to be on all the time, other courses may require limited or no cameras. However, we encourage you to consider your actions and environment while on camera that may impact the learning environment for the class.

- a. It may be necessary for you to arrange options for child care and pet care to minimize distractions.
5. Assignments are due on the dates noted in the course syllabus.
6. Audio signals on cell phones, pagers, and watches should be turned off, or, if you must be available, set them to vibrate. If you get a call that you need to take, take it outside of the “classroom”. Leave and return quietly with as little disruption as possible.
7. Please use your laptop only for class activities or discussions.

Professional Performance Standards (PPS)

Part of performing at your best level in this program will require a high degree of self-awareness. The following information is quoted from the Utah State University (USU) Rehabilitation Counseling Education Program performance policy...

The relationship between personal behavior and professional competence has long been recognized in the rehabilitation counseling field. Rehabilitation counselors must be aware of the impact of their own physical, mental, and/or emotional issues on the counseling process, and the potential harmful effects these unresolved issues can have on consumer progress and outcomes.

Additionally, the Code of Professional Ethics for Rehabilitation Counselors (CRCC, 2017; https://www.crc certification.com/filebin/pdf/ethics/CodeOfEthics_01-01-2017.pdf) states:

Section D.3.a - IMPAIRMENT. Rehabilitation counselors are alert to the signs of impairment from their own physical, mental, or emotional problems and refrain from offering or providing professional services when such impairment is likely to harm the client or others. They seek assistance for problems that reach the level of professional impairment, and, if necessary, they limit, suspend, or terminate their professional responsibilities until such time it is determined that they may safely resume their work. Rehabilitation counselors assist colleagues or supervisors in recognizing their own professional impairment and provide consultation and assistance when warranted with colleagues or supervisors showing signs of impairment and intervene as appropriate to prevent harm to the client. (See A.9.d.)

If you feel you are struggling in any way, we as faculty encourage you to reach out to us. We will work together to find suitable methods for supporting you.

In addition to meeting the academic standards set forth in the USU Rehabilitation Counseling Program, students are expected to conduct themselves in an ethical, responsible and professional manner. They must be knowledgeable of and at all times adhere to the general standards of professional ethics and practice set forth by the Commission on Rehabilitation Counselor

Certification (CRCC, see the code of ethics page referenced above). More specific to this class and the overall rehabilitation counseling program, specific Professional Performance Standards include:

1. Openness to new ideas
2. Flexibility
3. Cooperativeness with others
4. Willingness to accept and use feedback
5. Awareness of own impact on others
6. Ability to deal with conflict
7. Ability to accept personal responsibility
8. Ability to express feelings effectively and appropriately
9. Attention to ethical and legal considerations
10. Initiative and motivation
11. Awareness of and attention to the unique cultural and societal issues related to disability

The rehabilitation counseling program has also adopted a set of professional dispositions to be demonstrated by all students. The professional dispositions include:

- Self-awareness, including humility, self-reflection, and understanding of place in history
- Integrity, including personal responsibility, maturity, honesty, courage, and congruence
- Commitment, including counseling identity, investment, advocacy, collaboration, and interpersonal competence
- Openness to idea, learning, change, giving and receiving feedback, others, and self-development
- Respect to self and others, including honoring diversity, self-care, and wellness

Skills: At a minimum, students are expected to develop a graduate-level understanding of the following skills: research, writing, presentation, collaboration, technology, and critical thinking. It is also important that you do not make assumptions regarding the content, policy, or other elements of this class. Please feel free to contact me directly to address any questions or concerns you may have.

Professional Writing: Within graduate school and as a professional, it is expected that we be able to communicate clearly with precision and formality. Before any submission of any assignment, students can approach the Writing Center at USU for support in editing. The Writing Center has a link so you can schedule an online session if necessary. They can be reached by phone: (435) 797-2712, or Email: usuwritingcenter@gmail.com. More detailed information about the Writing Center can be accessed at: <https://writing.usu.edu>

Attendance: Students are expected to attend all live Zoom sessions. Attendance is a critical aspect of student success and classroom engagement. Students should let the professor know in advance if they need to be absent. In the event of a personal emergency, getting word to the professor about personal absences, as soon as possible, is appreciated. Should absences occur, students are expected to follow-up with peer colleagues regarding missed content, and then with the instructor for consultation, if further elaboration on content is needed.

Participation: Students are expected to participate in all teaching activities. Participation is a critical aspect of student success and classroom engagement. Sharing professional and personal experiences related to the topic under discussion is invited as a way of adding to the overall learning environment whether we are meeting online or in-person. Students are expected to demonstrate respect for one another in the way that they ask questions, make comments, and engage in the overall academic exchange of concepts, topics, and ideas.
