Marla's example:

I am Marla King Robertson.

I am a university professor at USU.

I am a teacher of literacy courses, teaching preservice teachers how to teach reading and writing.

I am a believer that all students can learn.

I am a mother of 4 children, all grown now, but all readers.

I am focused on elementary grades, K-6.

I am a planner – I love to have a scope and sequence so I know I'm covering the standards.

I am an integrator – I believe students learn to be better readers by reading in the content areas.

I am getting close to the end of my teaching career.

I am unfinished – I still have things to learn about teaching.
